

Call For Papers: Harvard-MIT-Stanford Empirical Management Conference

We will be running a two-day conference on empirical management, focused on exploring recent empirical research on measuring and exploring management and organizational practices. This follows conferences in 2014 and 2015 at Harvard and Stanford (with the plan to run annual conferences rotating between Harvard, MIT and Stanford).

The conference takes place at MIT on December 7-8, 2016.

Limited funding of up to $400 will be provided for accommodations and travel for presenters. Additional funding is available for anyone that can make a special hardship case for those with no other sources of funding. If you will require this extra funding when you submit your paper please indicate this, how much funding is required, and explain why.

Attendees are expected to attend the full conference. If for any reason you cannot attend the full conference please note this in your submission.

Please send papers to Emily Manning (manninge@mit.edu) by September 1, 2016. Accepted papers will be notified by end of September.

Nick Bloom (Stanford University)
Raffaella Sadun (Harvard Business School)
John Van Reenen (MIT)

07/11/2016